Contract for Schoolhouse Let.

The contract for building the new parochial school for the west side German Lutheran congregation was let on Tuesday to the Weber Construction Co., the contract price being $4,440.

The new building will be 30x66 feet, of solid brick, one story and a basement, and when finished will be a neat and commodious building.

The new building will be located next to the church on McKinley street between 9th and 10th avenues, and the contract calls for its completion by the 15th of September, in time for opening school this fall. The contract for the plumbing was let to the Central Hardware Co.

Arrested for Horse Stealing.

William Plummer was arrested by the officers here on Friday and taken to Stevens Point on a charge of horse stealing. Plummer is the young man who hired a horse from a liveryman at Stevens Point, and later the rig was found abandoned near Bancroft. So far as can be learned he made no effort to sell the outfit. When arrested Plummer was driving up river in one of Hasbrouck's rigs.

When arraigned at Stevens Point he admitted that he had driven off with the rig and abandoned it, but pleaded not guilty to horse stealing, saying that he was drunk and not responsible for his actions. He will have his hearing today.

Parker-Bassett.

The marriage of Miss Grace Parker and Edward Bassett will occur today at noon at the home of the bride's parents in Stevens Point. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. J. A. Stamen, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties will be present.

Both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known in this city, the bride having been in the employ of Attorney Wheelan for a number of years past as stenographer, and the groom is one of our rising young men, having been in the service of the electric light company for a number of years here and the Tribune wishes with these in extending the warmest of congratulations and wishing them a long life of happiness.

After a short wedding tour, which will be spent at the Dells and other points of interest, they will return to this city and make their home on Birch street.

Building for Sale.

The building now used for a school by the P. L. Lutheran on the west side will be sold in order to make room for the new school house. Building is 24x34. For further particulars see Rev. Wm. Nommensen.

Married.

A very pretty wedding took place at 88 S. Peter and Paul Catholic church on Thursday, when in the presence of relatives and friends, Miss Clara Johnson, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson of Rudolph, was united in marriage to Albert Hamma, son of the late Frank Hamma, Rev. Wm. Reeling performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister Pauline and the groom by Alfred Gash. After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride, where an open house was kept throughout the day and evening to the many invited guests, and where large tables were laden with good things to eat and drink.

A temporary dance floor had been erected in the tool house, where a large number of young people spent the afternoon and evening in dancing. The wedding presents were many and beautiful, which bespeaks for the contracting parties the high esteem in which they are held by their many friends. They have gone homekeeping on the groom's farm in the town of Rudolph where they are at home to their friends. The Tribune joins with a legion of friends in wishing them a happy wedded life.

Wausau Wins from Port Edwards.

There was an eleven inning game played at Port Edwards on Sunday between a nine from Wausau and the Port Edwards baseball team. The score was 4 to 3 in favor of Wausau, but those who saw the game pronounced it to be one of the best that had ever been played there. There was a large crowd in attendance, and it is evident that if the Port Edwards team continues in the same manner they have started out that they can continue to draw good crowds.

Encountering Difficulties.

The gang of workmen who are engaged in laying the sewer along Second street to connect the river with the Wood County National bank have met with several difficulties. Some blasting has had to be done, which made the work go slow, and on Saturday there was a cave-in that caused three of the men to do some lively hustling to get out of the trench before they were buried. As the sewer is twelve feet deep it necessitates a considerable amount of digging.

Salaries Are Increased.

A statement issued by the postal department at Washington contains the cheering news that about a hundred postmasters in Wisconsin will have an increase in their salaries for the next year. Among them are those at Wausau, the increase being from $2,800 to $2,900, at Antigo, from $2,400 to $2,500, at Grand Rapids, from $2,400 to $2,500. The salary at Abbottsford has been reduced from $1,500 to $1,400.

Gave a Good Play.

A large audience assembled at the Lincoln school auditorium on Wednesday evening to witness the class play entitled "The Private Secretary," and those who were present were not disappointed by the manner in which the play was presented. All of the characters were well taken and some of them were excellent, and as there was considerable fun in the play it was highly appreciated by all.

Little Child Burned.

The two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. O'Dell was quite badly burned on Monday afternoon, but it is not expected that anything serious will result. The little girl had got hold of a match, by means of which she set fire to her clothes and before her mother could extinguish the flames she had been quite badly burned on one side of her body.

Death of Mrs. Huey.

Mrs. Mary Madeline Huey, one of the old residents of this city, died at the home of her son on the west side on Monday at the age of 84 years, 4 months and 19 days. Deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, but had made her home in this city for many years. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the Methodist church at 2 o'clock p. m.

Book & Spangler will hold a midsummer sale of all summer hats at their millinery parlor on the west side on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The public is cordially invited to look over our stock.

Sale of Millinery.

Mrs. C. E. Reynolds will conduct a sale of millinery and trimmed hats all next week at her place on the east side opposite the post office. Those in search of bargains in millinery should pay her a visit.

Rummage Sale.

St. Katherine's Guild will hold a rummage sale Saturday, June 12, from 10 to 5 o'clock in store north of opera house building.

Graduation Exercises.

The closing exercises of the graduating class of the Lincoln High school were given at the assembly room on Friday evening to a large and appreciative audience. A very nice program had been prepared for the occasion and it was carried out in a very efficient and entertaining manner. Following is the program:

Invocation—Wm. Moll
Oration—Possibilities of Irrigation
Oration—Possibilities of Irrigation
Class History—Alex Jones
Class Prophecy—Mabel Balette
Mabel Palmer
Oswald Dickoff

At the conclusion of the program the diplomas were presented by Prof. H. S. Yorker, who, in presenting them, gave the departing students some timely words of advice. The high school orchestra also rendered a number of selections that helped very materially in the entertainment of the evening.

Nekosia Is Beaten.

A large crowd of baseball fans gathered at the fair grounds on Sunday to witness the game of baseball between the boys from this city and those from Nekosia, and it was possible to cheer the locals on to success. They were not disappointed, as the Nekosias were beaten by a score of five to six.

Everybody considered this pretty good, as the locals are made up of boys about town who play ball only for amusement, and work during the week. Nekosia, however, has been doing some pretty good playing this spring and have what they consider a pretty strong team down there.

The Nekosia boys gave our team a pretty close rub for a number of innings, and were two runs ahead, but then they went up in the air, and before they touched the ground again the game had been won.

The spectators were well pleased with the exhibition and pronounced it a good game from start to finish.

The Eagles Convention.

The Eagles report that the indications are that they will take a large crowd with them to the convention to be held at Waupaca on the 21th of this month. The band will go from here and it is probable that they will have about thirty-two men in the organization, and as the train leaves in the morning and returns the same night, with a fare of one dollar for the round trip, it is probable that a large number will take advantage of the opportunity to attend.

Robbers Still at Large.

The two bandits that made their escape at the time of the robbery of the Merrill bank are still at large, and notwithstanding the fact that their descriptions have been pretty widely circulated, it is doubtful if they will now be apprehended. It is expected that the one that was shot will entirely recover from his injuries, as he is able to be about again.

Federation Meeting.

The meeting of the City Federation of Women Clubs, which was announced in last week's issue to occur at the home of Mrs. N. Redland, has been changed to meet with Mrs. J. Arpin Sr., on First street, Friday, June 11, at 2:30 p. m. The following program on Civic Improvement will be given:

Operating Under New Schedule.

Chief of Police Welch reports that a new schedule governing the saloons went into force on Sunday. Under the new rules the saloons must remain closed until one o'clock on Sundays and then close at nine o'clock on Sunday evenings.

Must Publish Applications.

A new law makes it necessary to publish applications for liquor license hereafter, and the application must be made fifteen days before the license is granted. Just where this would make any difference to anybody concerned cannot be seen at a glance.

Will Visit in the West.

Mrs. Peter Dierich and Mrs. John Alpine and daughter Beth left on Monday for Seattle where they expect to visit for a time and during their absence will also take in other points of interest in the west. They will probably be absent about two months.

Rummage Sale.

St. Katherine's Guild will hold a rummage sale Saturday, June 12, from 10 to 5 o'clock in store north of opera house building.

Commencement Week at the County Normal.

The sixth annual commencement of the West County Normal will be held at the Lincoln school auditorium Thursday, June 17 at 8 o'clock p. m. Dr. E. G. Updike of Madison will deliver the commencement address, and W. D. Connor will present the diplomas.

The class this year numbers twenty-nine members and is the largest in the history of the school. The normal for graduates of the County Normal to fill vacancies as teachers is now far beyond the supply, which speaks most forcibly for the work that is being accomplished there.

Circuit Court Doings.

The case of the city of Grand Rapids against M. A. Bogger and Rosa Bogger has been occupying the attention of the circuit court for a number of days past and it is not finished at this time. This case is for the purpose of settling the amount of damages due Mr. Bogger for the land taken from him in the widening of Vine street. A motion was made on Saturday afternoon by City Attorney Williams to dismiss the case. The judge refused to do so, however, and it was taken up on Monday morning.

Rapidly Nearing Completion.

The Northington Brothers have been getting along in fine shape during the past couple of weeks and the consequence is that the structure is rapidly nearing completion. They expect that it will be so far completed that they will be able to move into it week after next, and when they get into their new location they will have one of the best equipped laundries in this part of the state.

Opened a Vaudeville Show.

John E. Daly, owner and manager of Daly's theater, opened a vaudeville show in the theater on Monday night and the indications are that the place will prove a popular one, provided the attractions are of a high enough class to satisfy the people. The people here seem to be willing to patronize a good show, but are not very strong on their ratings.

Returned From the West.

George Ward of Beloeck was in the city on Saturday, having recently returned from North Dakota where he had been on the road for the Swift company as traveling salesman. Mr. Ward did not fall in love with that part of the country and cannot understand how any man who has spent any length of time in Wisconsin could be contented in a prairie country.

Found for Defendant.

The case of H. Allen Waggoner against Wm. H. Upham of Marshfield was tried out in circuit court last week, the jury finding for the defendant. The case was over a boat which Mr. Upham had agreed to buy, but which did not come up to the representations. Mr. Upham was represented by Attorney John P. Cole of Marshfield and George L. Williams of this city.

Has Gone to Waupaca.

B. A. Hammon, who is well known in this city, having been employed as jeweler here for a number of years, has bought a store at Waupaca where he will engage in the jewelry business. Mr. Hammon has many friends here who will wish him success in his new location.

The Gold Brick

By DON MARK LEMON

The two men stepped from the entrance to cross the street, when the hostess, with a look of surprise, in contact with an object lying in the gutter. He swore softly, as he noted that he had stepped a bit of polished surface from the toe of his shoe.

The companion stopped and picked up the offending object. It was about the size and shape of a fire brick, and quite heavy.

"Better get it in the toe than in the neck," he laughed, tossing the object to the other man. "It's a gold brick, Jim."

The man whose shoe had been scuffed mischievously winked at the brick, and it slipped from the hold and fell on his left foot. He did not swear softly this time, for the brick weighed about 30 pounds.

"You'll pay a thousand for your kiddin'!" he growled, cursing his injured foot. "Get the money on you?"

His companion laughed. "Keep the brick, Jim, and sell it for two thousand. That's over by, isn't it?"

"What?" demanded the other.

"Selling gold bricks."

The heavier man put down his foot. He could no longer support himself on one leg, without hopping about the street to maintain his equilibrium, and he was too full-blooded for such gymnastics.

"I'll sell it all right, all right," he growled. "And not a red cent for you!" He picked up the offending brick and struck it with his knuckles. "Copper!" came a fifth voice from Broadway. "Put off some time, Ough!" he brought a couple of dollars. He glanced about the street to locate a pawn shop, when suddenly he turned to his companion and commanded hoarsely: "Side step! Hiram and Cynthia!"

The shorter man immediately crossed to the opposite side of the street, where he placed himself in a doorway and watched his partner as a man and woman passing along the sidewalk, displaying the copper brick to them and gesticulating as if inhaling under no little excitement.

By their dress the pair evidently were country folks, and the green goods' man standing in the doorway across the street was soon assured that their apparel did not belie their simple character, for at the woman's solicitation, her companion brought a purse from an inner pocket and counted out seven bills, handed them to the party who had presented them, receiving the copper brick in exchange for the bills.

The moment the trade was closed, the woman thrust the brick into a capacious bag which she carried on her arm, then, seizing her companion by the sleeve, she hurried him along in the direction of Grand Central.

The man in the doorway hastily recrossed the street and rejoined his companion. The latter had turned into an entry and seated himself on the lowest steps, his face mottled with suppressed laughter.

"Well, what's the deal?"

The man on the step displayed a small roll of bills. "A four-hundred for the gold brick, Jim," he hiccupped. "Hiram was suspicious, but Cynthia pulled out a hatpin and scratched the bluenote's copper. It looked good to the old girl, so Hiram digs up the price. Easy as easy!"

The man standing clicked his jaws. "What was the trick? Come, put us on."

The other explained between hiccups and guffaws of laughter. "Told 'em 'twas a gold brick, Uncle Sam's own make; worth seven thousand. Thirty pounds at 20 an ounce. See? Dropped off Uncle Sam's go-cart. Had to leave New York on the next boat—going to China—and hadn't time to collect reward for finding the brick. Let 'em take it for a hundred; they get the reward. Maybe five hundred spot anyway. Hiram hunched back; Cynthia pulls out a hatpin and scratches the copper. Rip

RAVAGES OF THE CORN PLOW

(Copyright, 1909.)

The drawings from which the illustrations in this article were made are by Prof. Andrew M. Soule, Georgia Agricultural College.

The deep set corn plow ripping its devastating way through the roots of the plants, creating havoc at every jump, is a familiar sight in the corn belt, and in every state where corn is grown.

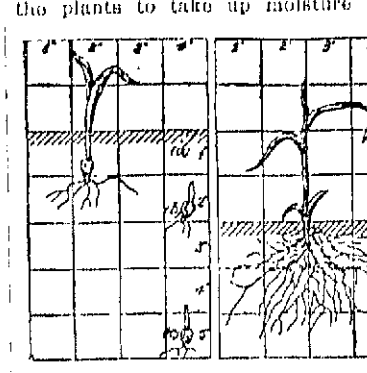

The damage to the growing corn and the consequent loss of grain by checking the growth of the plant cannot, of course, be estimated, but the damage runs into millions of bushels is not to be doubted.

Too many farmers have yet to learn that deep plowing in the cornfield should be done before planting, and not after. When it is known that corn roots penetrate the ground—and hard ground at that—to the depth of three feet or more, and also spread out on each side for an equal distance, the damage from deep plowing is apparent.

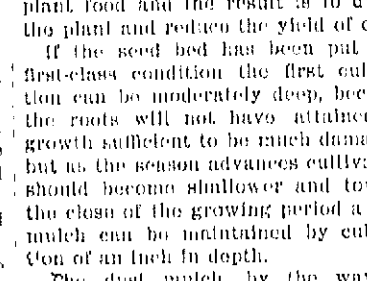

If corn is cultivated deeply and the plow runs close to the plant, the lateral roots are broken and the plant is checked in its growth. The plant, of course, is estimated, but the damage runs into millions of bushels is not to be doubted.

MORE ROOT CROPS ON FARM.

Why More Than Potatoes Are Not Grown Is Puzzling to a Correspondent.

Why more root crops other than potatoes are not raised I cannot understand, says a writer in Farm Magazine, and he adds:

"By that I mean such crops as carrots, rutabagas, turnips and mangels, which are well-known first to the farmers who grow root crops that it is judiciously fed they are one of the most economical crops grown as well as beneficial to stock to which they are fed."

"To be sure, it requires careful work to keep the weeds from taking the carrot patch, as is too often the case with so many farmers. While it requires work to keep such crops clean, does it not require work to grow any crop? To raise a hay crop, though we do sort of double up on it by fitting the ground for wheat or oats and then sow the clover or timothy seed with only one fitting, requires work."

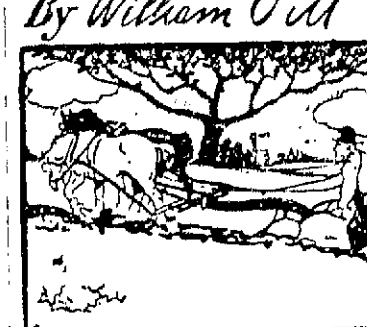

"But to the small farmer, the farmer farming from forty to eighty acres, surely a half or an acre laid aside and well fertilized, and barnyard manure is excellent if no weed seed was in the hay or grain which, in such case, would necessitate more weeding, for root food for the coming winter. The cow, if fed of them judiciously, will be in better condition than if fed a grain ration entirely, also the butter will, in most cases, be as yellow as where the cows are on clover."

"Horses generally like carrots but must be fed sparingly as they are laxative in effect, but a few fed each day will produce a nice glossy coat of hair."

"Still, there is another side to the growing of root crops. By this I mean the commercial side. It is generally true that where a sufficient number of farmers grow these crops, a market will be created there to dispose of all that can be raised at a price ranging from 25 cents to 30 cents per bushel; and when we consider that from 300 to 600 bushels can be raised per acre you can readily see the gross income per acre would range from $75 to $180 per acre, and that would pay for your lot of seedling and still leave a good dividend on the most of our farms."

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Stack coal is good for the hogs.

Spray or whitewash the henhouse this spring.

Good pasture is essential to successful hog raising.

Cold winds and sudden rains cause many a loss to the chicken raiser.

It takes 31 days to hatch goose eggs, ten days longer than with those of the hen.

Heavy roads make hard pulling for the horses. Remember that, and go easy on them.

Don't touch the land when it is wet. It will practically ruin it if it is a clayey soil if you do.

Spilled grain and dirty water are poor encouragement to the cow to give either quantity or quality milk.

Calling the unreasonable weather names and going around with a thunder cloud on your brow and anger in your heart never changed the weather or made crops grow.

Don't think you know more than the maker of the separator you use. Follow the directions which come with it, and follow them explicitly if you want to get good results.

The farmer who is considerate of his teams during the early work of the spring is the farmer who is going to get better and better work out of them as the season progresses.

All the tools and machinery in good repair? Use the best care to look after these things. If you have not already done so, such work should have been done months ago.

It is a good plan to rub the horses out at night, to wash off the shivers under the collars with cold water, and to let stand for half an hour or so before giving the grain feed.

Turkeys like secluded nests. A nook in the brush heap or thickets is much to their liking. But they will also take kindly to an overturned barrel, or to an inverted V-shaped coop. It must be of ample size, of course, to give the turkey easy entrance.

Preparation of the soil is the first step towards the raising of a good crop, but it is of no avail unless you plant good plump, healthy seeds that possess a strong vitality and are free from all hereditary diseases. All small grain seed, such as oats, barley, rye and wheat, should be run through a fanning mill and all weak and light seeds and all dirt and weed seed separated.

Manure is one of the by-products of the dairy which should be figured in, in estimating the profits. As farming land becomes more scarce and high-priced, farmers in general are coming to realize the importance of making their land as fertile and productive as possible. The large, final profit of the dairy to the man who owns his own land is the manure by which he is able to increase the fertility and actual money value of his farm.

Look after the collars. A majority of the shoulder troubles arise from collars too large. These move and shift with every motion of the horse. Even collars that fit reasonably well at first sometimes stretch and enlarge with use, while the necks, as they harden, grow smaller, even if the horses keep in good condition, hence chafing soon wears the neck, or creates shoulder boils, and the sufferer that follows increases the stress and wear upon the animal's vitality, often to such an extent that great loss of flesh follows. Frequently, even if there is no break in the skin, it is practically impossible for an animal to do its best in a collar that chafes chiefly on the outside front of the shoulder, or against the points of the lower shoulder, rather than close up all around the neck.

The rolling of winter wheat in the spring has never failed to increase the yield in experiments by the Nebraska experiment station during four years, it showing an average of 5.1 bushels per acre increase. The rolling was given early in the spring, soon after frost was out and about the time growth started. Hard rolling after rolling was not as good as rolling alone, probably due to loosening up the plants again after the roller had pressed them firmly into the soil. Early spring rolling of winter grain, pressing the earth as it does firmly about the plant roots, produces good results. When frost comes out in the spring it is very apt to leave the soil filled with small cracks or checks, especially around the plants, which, if not examined closely, will be seen that a large number of roots are thus exposed, and if the weather continues dry they are killed or at least injured. We have taken up plants in the spring where half of the roots were injured in this manner. If the soil is not wet at the time of rolling, it should never be rolled when wet—rolling alone in no small degree to form a surface mulch. It does this rather than compact the surface.

Corn is poor feed for the young and growing pigs. Give them the flesh and bone forming foods. Give them all that they can utilize. Keep them growing at the top notch. In this way you will get your hogs into marketable condition quickly and will realize more profit than will the farmer who economizes on feed but who lengthens the feeding period.

Corn ground cob and all, together with a portion of oats, makes a good feed, not only for cows, but the horses as well.

A Pica for Bachelors.

There are few people in the community more generous according to their means more unselfish and more self-denying than the much-maligned bachelors. When they should be taxed? If a tax is required, let it be levied on the numerous idle, over-indulged, dissipated and married men. London Daily Graphic.

Iron Ore Fields in Finland.

Though Finland has been regarded up to the present time as being extremely poor in iron ores, recent research has proved the existence of ore fields in South Finland (Nivala) and above all in the Lakso lake district which seem to be worth the expense of mining. For research purposes a company has been formed.

Lewis' Single Dredge Caught 5000 Yards of Bottom in 24 Hours.

The way of the can't-guesser is hard.

It is an easy thing to push the horses so hard with the early work as to put them out of condition. Such methods do not pay.

When the horses come in all tired out and covered with sweat don't let them stand in the raw winds. They will be sure to catch cold if you do.

Did it ever occur to you that dirty, foul-smelling troughs are the sources of many disorders among the animals using them?

Mark the sow which proves a good mother and treat her with special regard. She will prove a splendid partner in the farming business.

Be ready for the dry spell when it comes this summer and have green food for your cows by planting a special patch for them now.

There is this to say in encouragement of spraying for San Jose scale. It not only keeps the pest in check, but destroys many other insects.

The only way to accurately judge a cow is by weighing and testing her milk. Census methods will prove most unsatisfactory.

Plan to build a silo this year and plant the field with corn next the time it will be ready to go into the silo for winter use.

Something from nothing never works out in the dairy. You must put the feed into the cows if you are going to get the milk out of them.

The successful farmer is he who is quick to observe, slow to run after innovations, and patient in following out the practical line of work on his farm.

In speaking of the difference between the feeding value of fresh skim milk and milk, warm from the separator, and the same milk cooled and then reheated to the same temperature when fed to the calves, H. H. Ottis declares that there is practically no difference. He says: In a test I have fed two lots of calves in comparison, giving one fresh hand-separated skim milk still containing the animal heat, and feeding the other lot sterilized creamery skimmed milk to about 58 degrees F. As kept it sweet from 12 to 14 hours. As good results were obtained with one as with the other. Under ordinary farm conditions it is difficult and often inconvenient to keep skim milk sweet, and for this reason better results are usually obtained with hand separator skim milk. Sufficient heating will, however, prevent the transmission of tuberculosis, which is quite frequently spread through skim milk.

Sows that have been fed an exclusive diet of corn during pregnancy, reach the farrowing period in a highly feverish state, are irritable and nervous and crave some flesh-forming food. They very likely kill one or two piglets and eat it and having done so, the chances are they will devour the others after it left to themselves. A sow frequent when sows have been fed too much fattening food and have had too much exercise. The pregnant sow is a pig factory and the feed she demands is that which will make bone, muscle and gristle, for that is what the pig consists of. Food her whole oats, barley, shorts, a little oil meal, etc., and only enough corn to keep her in good condition. See that she takes ample exercise. Feed her some distance from her pen and scatter the feed so that she is obliged to work to get it. It is essential to satisfy her. Sows fed in this way will seldom have any trouble at farrowing or even any desire to eat their young.

There are several cardinal reasons why the separator is needed on every farm where cows are kept: 1.—It saves lots of time over the old method of raking the cream. 2.—It saves work, as there are no jars or pans to carry the cream. 3.—It is easier to carry the cream a week than it is to send a wagon load of milk cans each day. 4.—It saves money in the amount of extra cream which is obtained. 5.—The warm skim milk is better for the stock, whether it is calves or pigs. Statistics show that the feeding value of separator skimming is from 20 cents to 40 cents per hundred-weight. Therefore, by feeding it to the young stock with the milk, they will get faster than they did, they will eat faster than they did, they will get more milk, and with separator skim milk they escape the sickness that comes from the grimey milk. 6.—The cream from the separator makes better butter than that which is raised by the old pan methods. It is a well-known fact that butter fat with impurities in it will not make as good butter as butter fat with the impurities taken out. The separator removes all these natural impurities. 7.—There is more money in it all around where the farmer uses a separator, for he gets more cream, better cream, hence makes higher grade butter, and gets better returns from his stock because of the fresh skim milk which is fed.

Scientific research has done great things for agriculture. A striking illustration of this is found in the sugar beet, whose sugar content has been a remarkably brief period of time been increased from 13.5 per cent to 15.35 per cent.

A study of the root growth of corn shows that the lateral roots run about four inches below the surface of the soil between the rows. This shows that the cultivation should not be deep after they have made good growth.

A $5000 farm that didn't cost a cent

W. B. Northrup, went to the Gulf Coast Country of Texas, last December, to contract for a lot of cabbages. One cabbage crop of 20 acres, on a 41-acre farm, near Brownsville, looked so good to him that he bought the entire farm, including the crop. He paid $125 an acre, the man who sold it agreeing to bring the crop to maturity, gather and deliver it on the cars.

The crop has been shipped; the yield averaged 24,000 pounds to the acre, and brought from $1.75 to $2.00 per hundred—over $3,000 for the crop.

As Mr. Northrup only paid $5,125 for the farm, he now has the farm, his original capital, and a handsome bonus besides. Mr. Northrup was fortunate. It isn't often one finds a man who is willing to sell his farm, after he has it under cultivation, for the crop usually brings more than the land. But there is plenty of similar land in the Gulf Coast Country of Texas, not under cultivation, that you can buy for a trifle, compared with its earning capacity. Why don't you go there and make an investigation while the land is within your reach? Next year it will cost more.

A trip of investigation will be inexpensive. It is your opportunity. Don't wait.

Most of our citizens are drifting towards Bright's disease by neglecting symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble which Policy's Kidney Remedy will quickly cure. John E. Daly and Johnson & Hill Co.

A temperance lecturer who wished to prove to the audience the deadly power of whiskey, caused a drop of water to be magnified and thrown upon a screen. The picture was a terrible one, worse bigger than elephants, spiders the size of a ship fought together in the drop of water.

The lecturer now caused a drop of whiskey to be added to the water. The effect was marvelous. The liquid killed all these ferocious horrors instantly. The vast chasms, tentacles and feelers stiffened. An old lady in the front row whispered in her husband's ear: "Well, Babe, that settles me, I'll never drink water again, 'bout putting some whiskey in it."

Nevada may come into renewed prominence as a producer of precious metals. During March two mining camps in that state turned out $2,000,000 worth of gold, and quite a rush of prospectors is started for that locality. The fresh discoveries of gold may also have the effect of further weakening away the Nevadans from their excessive devotion to silver.

The most peculiar phase of the present situation is that the majority of women who wear the unsightly things cordially detest them, but that there are no others for sale, and that to wear them is to wear this year's Right here is a chance for women to demonstrate their ability to take a part in the government—let them regulate the styles instead of being regulated by them.

The best that can be said about the American passion for ancestors is that it provides a living for a number of professional genealogists, and that it is, in itself, comparatively harmless. Every one is entitled to a right of vanity and self-indulgence. Ancestors cost no more than poker, and the search for them unites families in a common interest where such vanities as drinking and gambling tend to separate them.

Examination of the premises occupied by a Los Angeles private bank, lately closed for lack of funds, showed that the supposed vault was a big door without any opening behind it. The door was of steel, with a rush of glass, shiny combination dials and all the features of an imposing safe protecting quantities of money. Just how such a sham affair could be put in without becoming a matter of comment is hard to see. Or do workmen set such doors often enough not to be surprised by them?

BANK LOOT $137,000

LEWISTON (IDAHO) INSTITUTION IS SYSTEMATICALLY ROBBED. FOR FIVE YEARS.

DEFALCATION IS MADE GOOD

Officials Pay Back Stolen Funds—Manipulation of Adding Machine a Factor in Methods of Plunder—Case in Federal Hands.

Lewiston, Idaho.—That the Lewiston National bank has been robbed of $137,000 is the startling statement made by National Bank Examiner Claude Gatch, who has just completed an investigation.

Beyond the fact that the stockholders have made the alleged shortage good, Mr. Gatch declines to discuss the situation. The embezzlement has, it is stated, extended over a period of the last five years, and it was made possible, it is understood, by manipulation of the adding machine used in computing the bank's liabilities.

Immediately after the condition became known to the bank officials, a meeting of the stockholders was called and the entire defalcation made good by them.

The Lewiston National bank and the Idaho Trust Company were consolidated into one bank in 1910. At that time the capital and surplus of the Lewiston National was $200,000, and the capital of the trust company, $100,000. The aggregate deposits at the present time are about $300,000, of which $150,000 is in cash.

The case has been placed in the hands of the comptroller of the currency, who will decide whether any arrests will be made.

P. W. Kettchen, president of the National bank and Idaho Trust Company, said:

"I corroborate the statement of Mr. Gatch as to the defalcation having been made good. Some time since, when it was discovered that defalcations by employees had been committed, the directors and large shareholders, after having checked up and ascertained the exact amount, paid it in at once. A material salvage has since been realized, and a further salvage is covered by surety company bonds."

"No suspicion attaches to any employee now in the bank. The defalcation was the result of a gradual subtraction covering a period of five years, and no large sum was taken at any one time."

STREAM POLLUTION PERILS

Epidemic Caused and Waters Made Unfit for Use, Declares Report of Committee.

Washington.—The committee on "Pollution of Streams," appointed last year, which Alec H. Seyoum, secretary of the National Academy of Health is chairman, Friday presented its report to the meeting of the state and provincial boards of health of North America. The other members of the committee are Dr. Charles O. Probst, secretary of the Ohio state board of health, and Dr. H. D. Holton, secretary of the Vermont state board of health.

Studies of conditions all over the United States and reports of state health departments show that there have been many epidemics of typhoid fever directly due to the pollution of streams. The committee also has found that the pollution of streams has caused many public nuisances that have been caused, and that many of the waters of the various states are rendered unfit for domestic and manufacturing purposes. Fish life has been destroyed and the waters rendered unfit for bathing and fishing and for other recreational and obnoxious in other ways.

The report shows that during the past few years many laws have been passed dealing with this subject, but that the legislative activity has not kept pace with the needs.

TRAIN BANDITS ARE HELD.

Omaha Prisoners Are Bound Over to Grand Jury Under Bonds of $25,000.

Omaha, Neb.—G. W. Woods, Fred Torgensen and James Gordon were bound over to the next grand jury and held under $25,000 bond each to answer the charge of holding up and robbing the Overland limited mail car on the Oregon Pacific railroad on the night of May 25, by Judge W. H. Monger in the United States district court.

Twenty-two witnesses were called to identify the prisoners and all were sure that the men in the prisoners' dock were identical with those who committed the robbery. Six small boys, running from eight to eleven years were interesting witnesses and each told of seeing one or more of the men in the vicinity of Brown's corner, and after the robbery occurred. They found the robbers and other paraphernalia which led to the arrests of three men charged with the robbery.

DEATH PUZZLES THE POLICE

GRANDDAUGHTER OF DR. BINKLEY GIVES TESTIMONY.

Miss Eleanor Upchurch Declares Attempt Was Made to Prevent Her Sounding Alarm.

Chicago.—Although the evidence points to murder, the police are reluctant to admit that Dr. John T. Binkley, Sr., of Evanston, Ill., whose body was found in a room in the Wellington hotel Wednesday, was slain. It is one of the most puzzling cases the city's detectives have had in years, and startling developments may result.

"My grandfather was murdered. I know he was, for a man seized me in the hotel corridor and tried to prevent me from sounding the alarm just after we found his dead body."

With these words Miss Eleanor Upchurch, granddaughter of Dr. Binkley, closed the testimony before the coroner which it is believed will overturn the contention of the hotel authorities that her grandfather committed suicide.

Attorney Sidney Gorham, who appeared for the hotel management, did not attempt to cross-examine her on this point and did not refer to it during the inquest.

"Why don't you tell how it happened to you?" asked John T. Binkley, Jr., son of the dead man.

"Oh, yes, I must tell that," said the young woman. "Just after mamma and I had found grandfather dead in his chair, and when mamma was fainting in the hall, I ran toward the elevator to go downstairs and have them call a doctor. A man met me and grasped me by the arm."

"Where are you going?" he asked.

"I replied that I was going downstairs."

"You can't go downstairs," he said, and started to drag me toward a room. I broke away from him and ran down the stairway, as he was between me and the elevator."

As a result of this startling testimony the police are now working on the theory that the case is one of murder and the man referred to by Miss Upchurch is being sought.

GIRL'S SLAYER TO HANG.

Jury Convicts Negro Who Killed Ottumwa Choir Singer and Barely Escaped Lynching.

Centerville, Ia.—Quickly following the jury's verdict of guilty in the case of John Junkin, a negro who murdered Miss Clara Rosen, a choir singer of Ottumwa, Judge M. A. Roberts sentenced the prisoner to be hanged.

The jury returned its verdict after a deliberation of less than four hours. There was an immediate appeal from the verdict of the trial and the law words were read by the clerk as the crowd in the courthouse shouted went up which was taken up by the crowd in the courthouse.

Attorneys for the defense waived their customary right of three days before the jury's verdict of death is passed and agreed that Judge Roberts pass sentence immediately, which the court did. Junkin will hang the last Friday in July, 1910. He was taken to Fort Madison for safe keeping till the day of his execution.

Adl. Gen. John C. Ryan of Des Moines was in the court room when the sentence was pronounced. He stated that there would be no need of militia to guard the prisoner as the verdict met with popular favor.

Junkin's crime was one of the most atrocious ever committed in Iowa. He had been a chemist for years in the employ of a local firm. He confessed that he had killed Clara Rosen with a stone while she was returning from the home of her sister. Later he dragged the girl into an excavation and assaulted her. Her dead body was found by a searching party the next morning.

When confronted with the charge in the police court, Mrs. Richman merely stated "that was no place for flowers," admitting she had taken them. She was released on bond.

DYES HAIR; LOSES IT

COURT REFUSES TO QUASH

Judge Quarles of Milwaukee Considers Loss of Locks Sufficient Ground for Suit and Overrules Demurrer.

Milwaukee.—Judge Quarles has established in jurisprudence a principle in law that anything which tends to lessen the dazzling beauty of woman has laid itself open to the bitterest condemnation of all men and to liability for damages.

A woman has a perfectly good cause for complaint in an action for damages if she loses her hair by reason of the application of chemicals, particularly so if the solution is advertised as being a hair restorer.

Judge Quarles on Friday overruled the demurrer of a company of Fond du Lac to the complaint of Mrs. M. L. Bowman to the effect that her complaint does not state a sufficient cause of action. He gave the defendants time to file their answer.

Mrs. Bowman, a traveling woman, sued the drug company and a St. Louis manufacturer of hair dye for $20,000 damages for the loss of her hair. She alleges her loss was caused by the application of hair stain purchased of the drug company and manufactured by the St. Louis company. The defendants demurred on the ground that the complaint failed to state a sufficient cause of action.

"Her hair is woman's chief beauty," said the attorney for Mrs. Bowman, while arguing the case. "To paraphrase a well-known quotation, 'He who steals her pocketbook steals her hair'—but he who fleeces her hair takes that which cannot enter his mind and leaves her poor indeed."
